The Recreation Department of the Siuslaw National Forest is seeking six Student Conservation Association field ranger interns for interpretation/education/outreach of the resource this summer in a special Forest Service program called Valuing People and Places. The goals of this program are to share the Forest Service Mission, connect people with their natural heritage and public lands, and encourage good stewardship. The seasonal staff selected for this initiative will provide interpretive services and programs to visitors in the Siuslaw National Forest throughout some of the most admired and captivating central coast region of Oregon. The base duty station will be in Florence, Oregon and interpreters will rove daily across the highly visited Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area and the Cape Perpetua Scenic Area. This is an excellent opportunity to learn about careers and receive working experience in the U.S. Forest Service.
